Caption Contest: Llama drama

May 27, 2011
Jezebel has a story to tell.

She's a rescued llama who now lives at Sanctuary One, a nonprofit that strives to bring people and animals together at Double Oak Farm in the Applegate Valley. This photo by Mail Tribune photographer Julia Moore perfectly captures all that camelid crankiness that llamas do so well.

While the llama's look showed attitude, readers showed creativity in coming up with captions for her photo.

The kids at Talent Middle School who read the Mail Tribune online daily with computer teacher Linda Murphy came up with the bulk of this week's 41 entries.

Although she's not one of the students, Heather Rasmussen, of Medford, earned top honors with a little advice from a llama mama: Hasn't your mom ever told you your face would get stuck like that?

Here are all the entries.

- I'm gonna win this staring contest! — Wade Wagner, Phoenix
- Oh dear, I have something stuck in my teeth! — Zach Atteberry, Medford
- My orthodontist says I'll outgrow it. — Terry Doyle, Ashland
- Dam dentures! — Keith Stephens, Phoenix
- Come any closer, I'll spit! — Allyson Armstrong, Phoenix
- Now this is real beauty! — Makenzie Hickman, Central Point
- NeRRRRRRRRRR!!! — Isaac McDaniel, Talent
- Funny face for the camera! — Angelina Palomino, Medford
- I hate getting my teeth brushed! — Brandon Livingston, Medford
- Tina doesn't want the food. — Alex Swanson, Medford
- Man, my jaw is killing me! — Jacob Bergren, Talent
- Y'all come on down and spit a spell, ya'hear, now? — Deb Ray, Central Point
- This is no way to treat a toothache! — Iris Glanzman, Medford
- What was that, a lemon? — Kiana Agnew, Talent
- Mmm, hum that's nice. Can I have some more grass? — Stormy Greenberg, Medford
- Don't smoke or you will end up looking like me! — Tyler Duncan, Talent
- Hey good looking, liking my looks? — Tonalli Rojas, Medford
- What? Is there something wrong with me? — Ethan Shepherd, Phoenix
- This is a smoker's face. — Dylan Fecteau, Medford
- Don't you look at me that way! — Alexandra Roberts, Talent
- Don't think the rope's going to keep it in! — Bryanna Teeters, Phoenix
