Please note – cell phone reception is unreliable in the Applegate Valley.

Drive carefully -- Road is paved and well maintained, but has lots of sharp curves.

20.3 miles total – about 35 minutes drive time.

From downtown Jacksonville, head west out of town on California St., also called Hwy. 238.

At mile marker 26 on Hwy. 238 enter small town of Ruch.

In 1/10 of mile turn left (south) where big green sign says “Applegate Dam” and “Ranger Station”. This is Upper Applegate Road. Stay on this road 12.5 miles to Double Oak Farm.

At mile marker 12 on Upper Applegate Road you are getting close.

After a sharp S curve with a steep bare cliff on the left side you are getting really close.

Immediately after S curve, look for driveway on left in the middle of a big open hayfield. The driveway is marked by a sign saying “Double Oak Farm” and the address numbers 13195.

If you pass mile marker 13 or reach Applegate Lake, you have gone a little bit too far.
